

The AI tools I actually use to work 2x faster

Introduction

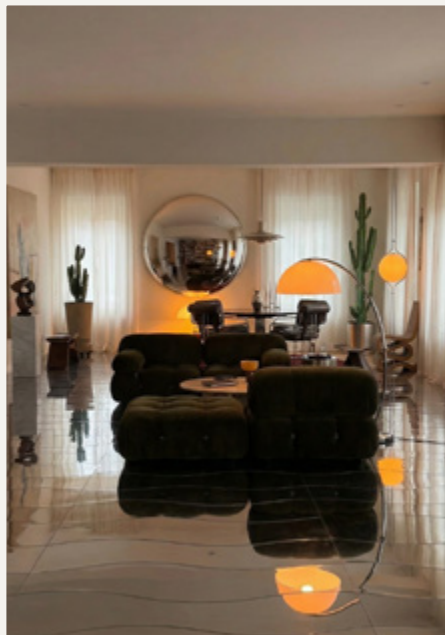

The best AI Tools right now for designers

These are the AI tools I actually use as a designer.
Every day.

No fluff. No «top 50 AI tools» listicle. Just the ones that stayed in my workflow after testing dozens.

These are the tools that let me run two businesses, create content, manage client projects, and produce renders without a team.

Let's start.

Masterclass

AI for INTERIOR DESIGNERS

Everything in this guide (and much more!) is part of my Masterclass: The Viral Visuals Framework.

In this masterclass, you'll learn how to use AI to create on-brand interiors in minutes, go viral on Instagram, grow your brand, and attract leads for your business.

Claude.ai

For needing a second brain.

Strategy. Copy. Brainstorming. Research.
The sharpest thinking partner I've found.

<https://www.notion.com/>

For messy projects.

Briefs. Timelines. Deliverables. All in one place.
AI built in. Cleans up your notes in seconds.

<https://wisprflow.ai/>

For hating typing.

Speak instead of write. It learns your voice.
Emails, captions, briefs. Done in half the time.

<https://www.grammarly.com/>

For non-native English.

Catches what you miss. Works everywhere.
Zero effort. Just writes better.

<https://www.fathom.ai/>

For forgetting what clients said.

Records and summarizes every meeting.
You stay present. The notes handle themselves.

Nano Banana (Gemini model)

<https://aifordesigners.io/>

For renders and image editing.

SketchUp to photorealistic scene in seconds.
Material swaps. Lighting changes. All from one prompt.

<https://www.krea.ai/>

For fast product concepts.

Instant rendering. Quick visual iterations.
Perfect for furniture and object exploration.

<https://www.canva.com/>

For messy projects.

FF&E boards. Social content. Layouts.
AI handles the formatting. You handle the design.

A few Midjourney Prompts

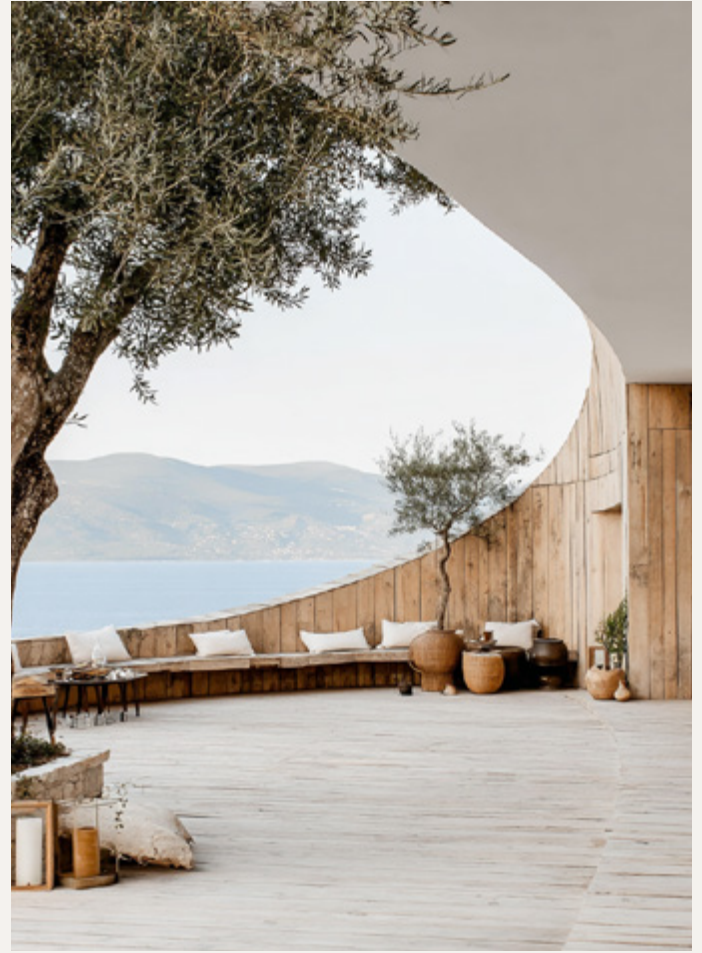

Here are a few Midjourney prompts that have worked really well for me. If you create your own images, you can edit them with Nano Banana (free).

And if you share them on Instagram, please tag me!
